Although the Fund for Investigative Journalism, Inc. does not have 33 1/3% public support, it does receive a substantial amount of its support from contributions made directly or indirectly from a combination of sources, including the general public. As required in Section 1.17A-9T Section (F) subsection 3(I), the Fund for Investigative Journalism does receive more than 10% of its support from public sources. As outlined in Section 1.170A-9T Section (F) subsection 3(ii), the Fund for Investigative Journalism has an ongoing campaign for additional financial support. In addition to fund-raising with foundations that support journalism, the fund seeks financial support from previous winners as well as prominent individuals, journalists, and members of the community to increase the level of public support of our work. As outlined in Section 1.170-9T Section (F) Subsection (III) the level of public support for the fund has varied over the years, and in 2018 and 2019, the level was 31.282% and 33.302%, respectively. Most of our contributions are from a limited number of unrelated private foundations. As outlined above, we are working hard to broaden our base of public support. The Fund for Investigative Journalism was founded in 1969. It has a 12-member board that consists of active and retired investigative reporters, including Pulitzer Prize winners, and professors at major universities with well established journalism and investigative reporting programs. The academic institutions represented currently on the board include, Temple University and George Washington University. The Fund exists to provide a critical service to the public by selecting and financing well qualified journalists to produce a significant, independent and often ground-breaking investigative stories in the United States and around the world. The Journalists who receive grants from the Fund have presented and distributed their work in newspapers, magazines, on broadcast programs -- both television and radio, and on web sites in text, audio and video. These stories keep government and business accountable to the public, protect the weak and power-less, shine light on injustices and the need for reform, and reveal secret activities that pollute the environment, plunder the public coffers, or that result in the killing or physical abuse of citizens. The work supported by the Fund has been recognized with numerous awards and spurred follow-up investigations and reform that continue to benefit the public. The watchdog role of journalists that the Fund has supported for more than 50 years is crucial to creating and preserving free and democratic societies. Because of the Fund, the public has received a greater awareness and understanding of the major issues and problems in the U.S. and around the world. The Fund is now more important than ever because of the major reductions in staff and resources occurring in the news media in the U.S. Without the Fund, many of the most necessary and valuable investigative stories would not be done.
